FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK . . .

Dear Parishioners and Friends of the Catholic Parishes of Western Holt and Boyd Counties,

Breath is the very symbol of life and has been since ancient times. Indeed, the first creation account in Genesis depicts the life force of the Creator as ruah , meaning “breath” or “wind,” which swept over the face of the primordial waters. And in the second account of creation, the first human creature becomes a living being only when the Creator breathes the breath of life into its nostrils (Gen 2: 7). At Pentecost it is the same divine life force that recreates a frightened group of disciples into bold proclaimers of the gospel.

The symbols of divine presence described in Acts 2: 1-11, are familiar from the Old Testament thundering noise, of God’s manifestation at Sinai; a whirlwind, like that from which God spoke to Job (Job 28:1); and the flames of fire, such as Moses saw at Mount Horeb (Exod 3:2). God’s presence is visible and audible, profoundly transforming those who experience it. The disciples, like anyone who has experienced the death of a loved one, would have felt that something of their own spirit and zest for life had also been snuffed out at the death of Jesus. Huddled together, trying to comfort one another, they were unable to muster any energy for carrying on the mission.

This weekend there are two choices for the gospel. In both we get a glimpse of some concrete ways in which the Spirit brings them and us back to life so as to go forth again in mission. In John 14: 15-16, 23b-26, Jesus is telling his disciples before his passion that he will not leave them alone. He promises to send the Paraclete to be always with them. Only the Fourth Evangelist uses this term for the Spirit. It comes from the legal world and connotes one who stands alongside another, as advocate or as comforter. Not only does the Paraclete teach the disciples and remind them of everything Jesus told them, but this consoling One is as near as one’s own breath. When Jesus speaks to those whom he loves of their oneness with him and with the One who sent him, he speaks of mutual indwelling.

The second choice for this weekend’s gospel is John 20:19-23, the risen Christ breathes on the disciples and infuses them with the Spirit. He unleashes in them the power of the Spirit, who alone can bring peace and joy in the wake of terrifying woundedness. He directs them to open themselves to the gift of the Spirit that allows them to receive and give forgiveness. For it is only through the power of forgiveness that the air can be cleared and all can breathe in the peace for which we so long and which the risen One desires to give.

Perhaps it is the breath that best signals this intimacy. God, in the person of Jesus and the power of the Spirit, is as close to each and every believer as is our very breath, taken deeply into our lungs thousands of times every day, a constant vivifying force. Just a breath must be exhaled and cannot be kept within, so too does the Spirit’s power direct us outward to mission, exuding the love, peace, and forgiveness we have inhaled from the Living One.

Ad multos annos!

Fr. Bernard Starman
Pastor
