FAMILY FUN NIGHT—JULY 3, 2025—It's almost time for the 14th Annual Family Fun Night. We are accepting monetary donations and new or gently used stuffed animals to help defray the cost of this totally FREE family free evening. If you'd like to donate, drop an envelope in the offertory basket, drop off at the DOM office, or put in the mailbox outside of Jan Kunz's house. Please make checks payable to the Knights of Columbus and put Family Fun Night on the memo line. We are also looking for helpers to run the games. Please consider helping out.

PARISH COUNCIL

SPRING SHINDIG THANK YOU!

A big SHOUT OUT to everyone that made the 3rd Annual Spring Shindig a success! Thanks to Tri-County Bank and Kaup's Financial Services for sponsoring the magician, to the Christian Mothers for making and serving the wonderful spaghetti supper, to the confirmation kids that helped set up and work the raffles and Country Store, the KCs for setting up and running the bar, and to all of the people that donated items for the raffles, auction, and country store. And finally, to all that attended the evening. A great time was had by all!

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK . . .

Dear Parishioners and Friends of the Catholic Parishes of Western Holt and Boyd Counties,

Mi casa es su casa – “my home is your home” – is the greeting extended to visitors in many Hispanic households. The hospitality offered is boundless, as hosts outdo themselves in generosity, eager to share with guests everything they have. Most humbling is the way in which communities that have little more than tortillas, rice, and beans as daily fare will find a way to add a bit of meat or other delicacies when guests are present, expending their last resources to ensure the comfort of the visitor.

In some ways this example of persons who pour out themselves in generosity to others gives us a glimpse of the relationship among the persons of the Trinity and of their outpouring of love for us. In this weekend's gospel reading (John 16: 12-15), Jesus has been speaking with his disciples about the Paraclete that will come when he departs. As he describes all that the Spirit will be and do, we recognize these as the very things that comprised Jesus's person and mission. Jesus explains that the Spirit “will take from what is mine and declare it to you.” But what is Jesus's is also what is the Father's, as Jesus asserts, “Everything that the Father has is mine.” There is no “yours and mine” in the Godhead – only “ours,” as the three interweave in a communion of love in which there is no possessiveness.

Along with the lack of possessiveness that characterizes the Trinity, there are likewise no claims of priority. As the first reading (Prov 8:22-31) asserts, Wisdom was present at the creation of the cosmos, at the side of the Creator, as a skilled artisan. The opening verse is sometimes translated as we find it in the Lectionary, “The Lord possessed me, the beginning of his ways,” reflecting the usual meaning of the Hebrew verb qana, “to acquire.” But here the context implies acquisition by birth so that the verse is better rendered, “The Lord created me at the beginning of his work” (NSRV) or “the Lord begot me, the first-born of his ways” (NAB).

The last part of the phrase is ambiguous. The Hebrew reshit can also signify temporal priority, “firstborn,” or it can connote excellence. The author of Colossians applies this expression, “the firstborn of all creation” (Col 1:15), to Christ. There are also strong parallels between what is said of Wisdom in Proverbs 8 and what is said of the Logos in the prologue of the Gospel of John, so that Christ is understood as Wisdom incarnate, the preexistent One, participating in the work of the Creator. The Spirit, too, which hovered over the watery chaos at the beginning of creation (Gen 1:2), continues to be the recreative and revivifying force that engenders life in the post-resurrection experience of the disciples. All three persons of Trinity existed from the beginning and interrelated as equal in being and function, creating, saving, and enlivening all that exists. They invite us to replicate their non possessiveness in our relationships, recognizing that nothing I have is mine alone but is “ours” for the common good.

Ad multos annos!

Fr. Bernard Starman
Pastor

TOTUS TUUS COMING TO BUTTE
