

WHY MOTHERS CRY

"Why are you crying?" a little boy asked his Mother.

"Because I'm a Mother," she told him.

"I don't understand," he said.

His mom just hugged him tightly and said, "You never will!"

Later the boy asked his father why Mother seemed to cry for no reason.

"All mothers cry for no reason," was all his Dad could say.

The little boy grew up and became a man, still wondering why mothers cry. So he finally put in a call to God.

When he got God on the phone the man asked, "God, why do mothers cry so easily?"

God said, "You see, when I made mothers, they had to be special. I made their shoulders strong enough to carry the weight of the world, yet gentle enough to give comfort.

I gave them an inner strength to endure childbirth and the rejection that many times come from their children."

"I gave them a hardness that allows them to keep going when everyone else gives up, and to take care of their families through sickness and fatigue without complaining."

"I gave them the sensitivity to love their children under all circumstances, even when their child has hurt them very badly. This same sensitivity helps them to make a child's boo-boo feel better, and helps them share a teenager's anxieties and fears."

"I gave them a tear to shed. It's theirs exclusively to use whenever it's needed. It's their only weakness. It's a tear for mankind."

GOD BLESS ALL MOTHERS!

"Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates." ~ Proverbs 31:31

A Summer Prayer

Father, Creator of all, thank you for summer! Thank you for the warmth of the sun and the increased daylight. Thank you for the beauty I see all around me and for the opportunity to be outside and enjoy your creation. Thank you for the increased time I have to be with my friends and family, and for the more casual pace of the summer season.

Draw me closer to you this summer. Teach me how I can pray no matter where I am or what I am doing. Warm my soul with the awareness of your presence and light my path with your Word and Counsel. As I enjoy your creation, create in me a pure heart and a hunger and a thirst for you.

Amen.

THE STRUGGLE OF THE BUTTERFLY

A man found a cocoon of a butterfly. One day, a small opening appeared. He sat and watched the butterfly for several hours as it struggled to force its body through that little hole.

Then, it seemed to stop making any progress. It appeared as if it had gotten as far as it could and it could go no further.

So the man decided to help the butterfly. He took a pair of scissors and snipped off the remaining bit of the cocoon.

The butterfly then emerged easily, but it had a swollen body and small, shriveled wings.

The man continued to watch the butterfly because he expected that, at any moment, the wings would enlarge and expand to be able to support the body, which would contract in time.

Neither happened! In fact, the butterfly spent the rest of its life crawling around with a swollen body and shriveled wings. It never was able to fly.

What the man, in his kindness and haste, did not understand was that the restricting cocoon and the struggle required for the butterfly to get through the tiny opening were God's way of forcing fluid from the body of the butterfly into its wings so that it would be ready for flight once it achieved its freedom from the cocoon.

Sometimes struggles are exactly what we need in our lives too. If God allowed us to go through our lives without any obstacles, we would not be as strong as what we could have been.

"I asked for strength, and God gave me difficulties to make me strong.

I asked for wisdom, and God gave me problems to solve.

I asked for prosperity, and God gave me a brain and brawn to work.

I asked for courage, and God gave me danger to overcome.

I asked for love, and God gave me troubled people to help.

I asked for favors, and God gave me opportunities.

I received nothing I asked for but everything I needed!"

MINISTRY OF PRAISE—A WORD FROM DEACON FILIPS

Greetings Fellow Prayer Warriors!

The letter to the Romans says: While we were yet sinners, Christ died for Us. Think about that for a while. Jesus did not just die for the saints, the perfect. Jesus died for you and me while we are still sinners. Somehow it seems more reasonable to our human minds to die for a great person, or for God who is perfect, but Jesus died for us while we were still sinners! He did not require us to repent and convert and become perfect for His grace to be effective. He willingly died for us, to give us grace and mercy when we need it most, when we are still sinners. This is a powerful concept. Many of us feel like we have a monkey on our back, and we can't shake it, and it seems like becoming friends with God and going to heaven are impossible for us because of our sin, so we burrow deeper into our sin because we don't see any way out.

The message of Divine Mercy from St. Faustina and Saint John Paul II is meant for you; Jesus died for you too and is willing to give you mercy and grace right now, free of charge, with no pre-conditions, a fresh start. We always think small because we are small humans. But God is not small. God is huge, He is infinite, He can give you grace and mercy any time you ask Him for it.

Although God's mercy is free and abundant, if we are receiving it, we should be changing. That is the normal way this works. God gives us a free gift of grace and mercy, and then we respond to it. We always need to follow through on this last part because ultimately, we do have to change and become more holy, but Jesus is always willing to make the first step and we take the second step, then Jesus takes the third step, and we take the fourth. And on and on until ultimately, we rush into the arms of Jesus for an eternal embrace.

Mercy and grace are like a beautiful present given to us by Jesus, but He never forces us to take it. He wraps it in beautiful paper and ribbons and lays it at our feet. All we must do is to stoop down and pick it up. But that is the hard part, isn't it? The stooping, the humbling, the admitting we need that grace and mercy because we can't do it on our own. But it is right there, and it is free and it is the most perfect gift you will ever receive. All we have to do is stoop down and pick it up.

I urge you today; be aware of God's mercy, look for it, stoop down and pick it up, savor it, imagine the love that sent you that mercy. Then respond to it. Let us pray for everyone who needs to feel God's mercy in their lives, especially our friends and loved ones. This month's catechesis continues the chapter on spirituality in my book, Pearls of the Universal Church. Available from www.spiritualworkspress.com

DO THESE THREE THINGS DAILY:

1. Practice Lectio Divina or WRAP as described in chapter 12, 12e
2. Practice the ARRR (pirate) method of prayer to grow in intimacy with God.
  - +Acknowledge and be aware of our thoughts, feelings and desires concerning God.
  - +Relate and tell everything we acknowledged to either the Father, Son, or Holy Spirit or even Mary.
  - Tell God what is on your heart and mind concerning Him.
  - +Receive any new thoughts feelings or desires that God gives us as we are praying.
  - +Respond to what you received from God. Usually, gratitude is the best response to any grace you receive.
3. At the end of every day, review how well you did at cooperating with God's grace. Here is a simple examination of conscience called 3-2-1.
  - +Think of three examples of cooperating with God's grace today.
  - +Think of two examples where you did not cooperate with God's grace today.
  - +Think of one thing you want to do better tomorrow and resolve to do it.

THE ROOM

In that place between wakefulness and dreams, I found myself in the room. There were no distinguishing features except for the one wall covered with small index card files. They were like the ones in libraries that list titles by author or subject in alphabetical order. But these files, which stretched from floor to ceiling and seemingly endless in either direction, had very different headings. As I drew near the wall of files, the first to catch my attention was one that read "Girls I have liked". I opened it and began flipping through the cards. I quickly shut it, shocked to realize that I recognized the names written on each one.

And then without being told, I knew exactly where I was. This lifeless room with its small files was a crude catalog system for my life. Here were written the actions of my every moment, big and small, in a detail my memory couldn't match. A sense of wonder and curiosity, coupled with horror, stirred within me as I began randomly opening files and exploring their content. Some brought joy and sweet memories; others a sense of shame and regret so intense that I would look over my shoulder to see if anyone was watching.

A file named "Friends" was next to one marked "Friends I have betrayed." The titles ranged from the mundane to the outright weird. "Books I Have Read," "Lies I Have Told," "Comfort I have given," "Jokes I Have Laughed at." Some were almost hilarious in their exactness: "Things I've yelled at my brothers". Others I couldn't laugh at: "Things I Have Done in My Anger", "Things I Have Muttered Under My Breath at My Parents." I never ceased to be surprised by the contents.

Often, there were many more cards than I expected, sometimes, fewer than I hoped. I was overwhelmed by the sheer volume of the life I had lived. Could it be possible that I had the time in my years to fill each of these thousands or even millions of cards? But each card confirmed this truth.

Each was written in my own handwriting, each signed with my signature.

When I pulled out the file marked "TV Shows I have watched", I realized the files grew to contain their contents. The cards were packed tightly, and yet after two or three yards, I hadn't found the end of the file. I shut it, shamed, not so much by the quality of shows but more by the vast time I knew that file represented.

When I came to a file marked "Lustful Thoughts," I felt a chill run through my body. I pulled the file out only an inch, not willing to test its size, and drew out a card. I shuddered at its detailed content.

I felt sick to think that such a moment had been recorded. An almost animal rage broke on me. One thought dominated my mind: "No one must ever see these cards! No one must ever see this room! I have to destroy them!" In insane frenzy, I yanked the file out. Its size didn't matter now. I had to empty it and burn the cards. But as I took it at one end and began pounding it on the floor, I could not dislodge a single card. I became desperate and pulled out a card, only to find it as strong as steel when I tried to tear it.

Defeated and utterly helpless, I returned the file to its slot. Leaning my forehead against the wall, I let out a long self-pitying sigh. And then I saw it... The title bore "People I Have Shared the Gospel With." The handle was brighter than those around it, newer, almost unused. I pulled on its handle, and a small box not more than three inches long fell into my hands. I could count the cards it contained on one hand.

And then the tears came. I began to weep: sobs so deep that they hurt. They started in my stomach and shook through me. I fell on my knees and cried. I cried out of shame, from the overwhelming shame of it all. The rows of file shelves swirled in my tear-filled eyes. No one must ever, ever know of this room. I must lock it up and hide the key. But then as I pushed away the tears, I saw Him.

No, please not Him. Not here. Oh, anyone but Jesus. I watched helplessly as He began to open the files and read the cards. I couldn't bear to watch his response. And in the moments I could bring myself to look at His face, I saw a sorrow deeper than my own. He seemed to intuitively go to the worst boxes. Why did He have to read every one? Finally, He turned and looked at me from across the room. He looked at me with pity in His eyes. But this was a pity that didn't anger me. I dropped my head, covered my face with my hands, and began to cry again. He walked over and put His arm around me. He could have said so many things, but He didn't say a word. He just cried with me.

Then, He got up and walked back to the wall of files. Starting at one end of the room, He took out a file and, one by one, began to sign His name over mine on each card. "No!" I shouted, rushing to Him. All I could find to say was "No, no," as I pulled the card from Him. His name shouldn't be on these cards. But there it was, written in red so rich, so dark, so alive. The name of Jesus covered mine. It was written with His blood. He gently took the card back. He smiled a sad smile and began to sign the cards. I don't think I'll ever understand how He did it so quickly, but the next instant, it seemed I heard Him close the last file and walk back to my side.

He placed His hand on my shoulder and said, "It is finished." I stood up, and He led me out of the room.

There were still cards to be written.

Ascension Day Prayer

Father in heaven,
 our minds were prepared for the coming of Your kingdom
 when You took Christ beyond our sight
 so that we might seek Him in glory.
 May we follow where He has led and find our hope in His glory,
 for He is Lord forever. Amen
